Introduction and purpose

APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants \(including Independence Standards\) (APES 110) requires auditors and audit firms to be independent when undertaking audit and review engagements. Audit engagement teams in Australia specifically exclude individuals within the client's internal audit function, as direct assistance by the internal audit function to the external auditor is prohibited.

Auditors must apply the Conceptual Framework¹ in APES 110 to assess whether interests, relationships, actions or the provision of non-assurance services create threats to their independence. This process involves a rigorous analysis to identify, evaluate and address threats to independence, including using a reasonable and informed third party test. There is an overarching prohibition on assuming management responsibility in Section 400. Section 600 sets out the requirements and application material relevant to applying the conceptual framework when providing non-assurance services to audit clients.

The analysis of threats to independence must consider the aggregate impact of multiple threats (paragraph AUST R400.12.1), such as where a firm provides multiple non-assurance services to an audit client² or the fees in respect of multiple audit clients referred from one source represents more than 30% of total fees for each of five consecutive years.³ If threats to independence cannot be eliminated, and if safeguards are not available to reduce the threats to an acceptable level, the firm is required to eliminate the circumstances creating the threats, or decline or end the audit or review engagement.

Some situations will always create threats that cannot be reduced to an acceptable level. These situations are, therefore, prohibited explicitly in APES 110. These prohibitions are either strict prohibitions or prohibitions based on specific factors. Where APES 110 expressly or strictly prohibits a non-assurance service to an audit client, it cannot be provided by the firm or a network firm regardless of the materiality of the outcome or results of the service on the financial statements (paragraph 600.10 A2).

APES 110 imposes more extensive prohibitions for audit clients that are Public Interest Entities (PIEs).⁴ The prohibitions have legal enforceability for audits and reviews performed under the Corporations Act 2001 and the Superannuation Industry \(Supervision\) Act 1993 and Superannuation Industry \(Supervision\) Regulations 1994.

A firm is required to communicate with Those Charged With Governance (TCWG) of a PIE audit client before the firm or the network firm provides a non-assurance service for entities within the corporate structure of which the PIE forms part, where the non-assurance service might create threats to the firm's independence. Communication enables TCWG to have effective oversight of the audit firm's independence (paragraphs 600.20 A1 to R600.24). This includes informing TCWG that the audit firm has determined that the non-assurance service is not prohibited, will not create a threat to independence, or any identified threats are at an acceptable level or will be eliminated or reduced to an acceptable level. The audit firm must provide information to enable TCWG to make an informed assessment about the impact of the non-assurance service on independence (paragraph R600.21). The non-assurance service cannot be provided by the audit firm or network firm unless TCWG concur with the audit firm's conclusion that the provision of that non-assurance service will not create a threat to the audit

² Per paragraph R600.12, when a firm or network firm provides multiple non-assurance services to an audit client, the firm must consider whether the individual and also the combined effect of the services creates threats or impacts threats to independence.

³ Paragraphs AUST 410.14.1 A1 to AUST R410.14.3 establish requirements and provide application material where the fees from one referral source represent more than 30% of the total fees of the engagement partner, an office of the firm or the firm for five or more consecutive years.

⁴ PIEs are defined in the Glossary and paragraphs 400.8 to AUST 400.8.1 A1.

firm's independence, or any identified threat is at an acceptable level or will be eliminated or reduced to an acceptable level (paragraph R600.22).⁵

Firms are required to document conclusions about the firm's compliance with independence standards (paragraph R400.60). With respect to conclusions about compliance with independence obligations regarding the provision of non-assurance services, this might include, key elements of understanding the nature of the services and the impact on the financial statements, the nature of threats to independence and whether the results of the non-assurance services will be subject to audit procedures, the extent of management's involvement in the provision and oversight of the proposed services, any safeguards or other actions to address threats, the rationale as to why the services are not prohibited and that any threats identified are at an acceptable level (paragraph 600.27 A1).

The following tables provide high-level summaries of APES 110 prohibitions relating to audit or review engagements (refer paragraph 400.2) and include references to relevant APES 110 paragraphs. Even if a non-assurance service is not prohibited by APES 110, members must also be cognisant of the application of the conceptual framework and the application material in Section 600 in relation to those services.

The summaries do not amend or override APES 110, the text of which alone is authoritative. Reading this summary is not a substitute for reading APES 110.

There are also restrictions and prohibitions in legislation, such as the Corporations Act 2001, in addition to the prohibitions summarised below.

⁵ Paragraph R600.23 provides an exception to paragraphs R600.21 and R600.22 where the firm is prohibited by professional standards, laws or regulation, from providing information about the proposed non-assurance service to TCWG or it would result in disclosure of confidential information, the proposed service may be provided if certain criteria are met.

Table 1: Summary of APES 110 Code prohibitions relating to providing Non-Assurance Services to Audit Clients

Prohibition	All Audit Clients	PIE Audit Clients only	Non-PIE Audit Clients only
	Strictly Prohibited	Strictly Prohibited or by factors listed	Prohibited based on specific factors
Assuming management responsibility for a client (R400.13). When performing a professional activity for an audit client the firm must be satisfied that client management makes all judgements and decisions that are the proper responsibility of management (R400.14)	●
Accepting an audit appointment where a non-assurance service that might create a self-review threat was previously provided unless the service ceases before the audit commences, the firm takes action to address any threats, and any threats have been or will be eliminated or reduced to an acceptable level (R400.32)		● Self-review
Allowing the audit fee to be influenced by the provision of non-audit services (R410.6) ⁶	●
Compensating or evaluating a key audit partner based on that partner's success in selling non-assurance services to any audit client of the firm (AUST R411.4) ⁷	●
Managing the administration of an insolvent client (AUST R523.3.1)	●
Serving as a company secretary (R523.4 & AUST R523.5)	●
Non-assurance service that might create a self-review threat ⁸		● Self-review (R600.16) ⁹	● Conceptual Framework (R600.8, 600.13 A1 & R600.14)

⁶ This does not prevent the firm from taking into consideration the cost savings achieved from the experience of providing the non-audit services to the client when determining the audit fee (paragraph R410.7).

⁷ A firm must also take reasonable steps to ensure any profit-sharing arrangement is not a cross-subsidisation of the audit by other service lines or a mechanism to distribute indirect incentives based on the ability to sell non-assurance services to the firm's audit clients.

⁸ Paragraph R600.14 requires a determination of whether providing a non-assurance service might create a self-review threat by evaluating whether there is a risk that:

- a) The results of the service will form part of or affect accounting records, internal controls over financial reporting, or financial statements; and
- b) In the course of the audit, the audit team will evaluate or rely on any judgements made or activities performed by the firm or a network firm when providing the service.

⁹ Paragraph R600.17 provides an exception to paragraph R600.16 where firms may provide advice and recommendations to PIE audit clients in relation to information or matters arising in the audit provided the firm:

- a) Does not assume a management responsibility; and
- b) Applies the conceptual framework to identify, evaluate and address threats, other than self-review threats, to independence that might be created by the provision of that advice.

Paragraph 600.17 A1 provides examples of advice and recommendations contemplated by paragraph R600.17.

Prohibition	All Audit Clients	PIE Audit Clients only	Non-PIE Audit Clients only
	Strictly Prohibited	Strictly Prohibited or by factors listed	Prohibited based on specific factors
Subsection 601
Accounting and Bookkeeping
Accounting and bookkeeping services, including preparing accounting records or financial statements (R601.5 & R601.6) subject to limited exceptions ¹⁰	●
Subsection 603
Valuation Services
Valuation services		● Self-review (R603.5)	● Materiality ¹¹ and a significant degree of subjectivity (R603.4)
Subsection 604
Tax Services
Tax services or recommending transactions related to marketing, planning, or opining in favour of tax treatment initially recommended by the firm or a network firm, unless the firm is confident the treatment has a basis in applicable tax law or regulation that is likely to prevail (AUST R604.4) ¹²	●
Calculating current and deferred tax liabilities (or assets)		● (R604.10)	● Conceptual Framework (R600.8, 604.7 A1 to 604.9 A2) ¹³

¹⁰ Preparing statutory financial statements is allowed for certain related entities of PIE audit clients (as specified in subparagraphs (c) and (d) of the definition of related entity) and subject to conditions in paragraph R601.7.

Providing accounting and bookkeeping services to non-PIE audit clients is prohibited unless the services are of a routine or mechanical nature and the firm addresses any threats that are not at an acceptable level (paragraph R601.5). Routine or mechanical services involve information, data or material in relation to which the client has made any judgements or decisions that might be necessary and require little or no professional judgement (paragraph 601.5 A1 and refer to paragraph 601.5 A2 for examples).

¹¹ Reference to materiality in this table refers to a material effect on the financial statements on which the audit firm will express an opinion. The concept of materiality is addressed in Australian Auditing Standard ASA 320 Materiality in Planning and Performing an Audit. The determination of materiality involves the exercise of professional judgement and is impacted by both quantitative and qualitative factors and is also affected by perceptions of the financial information needs of users.

¹² The firm will need a high level of confidence it is likely to prevail, which will be gained if there is a high probability, if viewed objectively by applying the reasonable and informed third party test (paragraph AUST 604.4 A1.1). Paragraph AUST R604.4.1 requires the firm to document the factors considered and conclusions reached in determining that the tax treatment is not prohibited by paragraph AUST R604.4.

¹³ Reference to Conceptual Framework means that although the non-assurance services are not strictly prohibited, the auditor needs to consider whether the application of the conceptual framework would lead to the services being impermissible.

Prohibition	All Audit Clients	PIE Audit Clients only	Non-PIE Audit Clients only
	Strictly Prohibited	Strictly Prohibited or by factors listed	Prohibited based on specific factors
Tax advisory and tax planning services where the effectiveness of the advice requires a particular accounting treatment or presentation in the financial statements and the audit team has doubt as to the appropriateness of that treatment or presentation (R604.13)	●

Acting as an advocate for a client in the resolution of tax disputes before a tribunal or court		● (R604.26)	● Materiality (R604.25)

¹⁴ Tax advisory and tax planning services will not create a self-review threat if such services (a) are supported by tax authority or other precedent; (b) are based on established practice that is commonly used and not been challenged by the relevant tax authority; or (c) has a basis in tax law that the firm is confident is likely to prevail (paragraph 604.12 A2).

The firm requires a high level of confidence it is likely to prevail which will be gained if there is a high probability, if viewed objectively by applying the reasonable and informed third party test (paragraph AUST 604.12 A2.1). Paragraph AUST R604.12.1 requires the firm to document the factors considered and conclusions reached in determining that the tax advisory and tax planning service satisfies paragraph 604.12 A2.

¹⁵ A valuation for tax purposes will not create a self-review threat if (a) the underlying assumptions are either established by law or regulation, or are widely accepted; or (b) the techniques and methodologies to be used are based on generally accepted standards or prescribed by law or regulation, and the valuation is subject to external review by a tax authority or similar regulatory authority (paragraph 604.17 A3).

¹⁷ Paragraph 605.6 A1 includes examples of internal audit services that are prohibited by paragraph R605.6, being services that relate to internal controls over financial reporting, financial accounting systems, or amounts or disclosures that relate to the financial statements.

²⁰ Paragraph 607.6 A1 includes an example of a litigation support service that is prohibited which is providing advice in connection with legal proceedings where there is a risk that the outcome of the service affects the quantification of any provision or other amount in the financial statements.

²¹ Paragraph 607.7 A2 states that a threat to independence is not created if an individual acts as a witness of fact and provides an opinion in the individual's area of expertise in response to a question asked in the course of giving factual evidence. Paragraph 607.7 A3 states that the advocacy threat from acting as an expert witness is at an acceptable level if the firm or a network firm is appointed by a tribunal or court, or is engaged in relation to a class action subject to listed criteria.

²³ Paragraph R410.21 provides for an exception to this if there is a compelling reason having regard to the public interest and subject to criteria. Paragraphs R410.18 and R410.19 include requirements pertaining to actions that might be safeguards when total fees from a PIE audit client represent more than 15% of the Firm's total fees for two to five consecutive years.

²⁴ When a significant part of fees due from an audit client remains unpaid for a long time, the firm must determine whether the overdue fees might be equivalent to a loan to the client, in which case Section 511 applies, and whether it is appropriate for the firm to be re-appointed or continue the audit engagement (paragraph R410.13).
